📖 Part 4

Grammar Tip: Spoken vs. Formal Persian

☑ Example 1:

اهل کجایی؟ (ahl-e kojaayi?) = means اهل کجا هستی؟ (Where are you from?)

☑ Example 3:

فارسی بلدی؟ (faarsi baladi?) = means فارسی صحبت می‌کنی؟

Or we can say فارسی بلد هستی؟ / بلد بودن = means to know

☑ Example 4:

کم (kam) = means (little)

بله، یه کم. (Baleh, ye kam.) = means (Yes, a little.)

☑ Example 5:

یه دوست ایرانی دارم. (ye doost-e iraani daaram.) = means یک دوست ایرانی دارم.

یه = short for یک = means (one/a)

☑ Example 6:

For countries, we do not use اهل. Instead, we add ی to the country name:

ایرانی (Irāni) = Iranian / کانادایی (Kānādāyi) = Canadian / آمریکایی (Āmrikāyi) = American / فرانسوی (Farānsavi) = French

Example: من ایرانی هستم. (Man Irāni hastam.) = I am Iranian.

💡 Part 5

Useful to Know: In Persian, the phrase "Nice to meet you" is often expressed as: از آشنایی با شما خوشوقتم (formal) or simply خوشوقتم / خوشحالم شما را می‌بینم (spoken).

The word خوشحال means happy, and می‌بینم means "I see" — so the sentence literally means "I'm happy to see you."

🖍️ Part 6

Exercise – Fill in the Blanks.

Complete the sentences using the words below:

صحبت می‌بینم ایرانی کم تهران

۱. من اهل _____ هستم.
(I'm from Tehran.)

۲. شما فارسی _____ می کنید؟
(Do you speak Persian?)

۳. بله، یک _____.
(Yes, a little.)

۴. من یک دوست _____ دارم.
(I have an Iranian friend.)

۵. خوشحالم شما را _____!
(Nice to meet you!)

⭐ Answer Key 1 – Vocabulary Matching	⭐ Answer Key 2 – Grammar Practice
A. Only → فقط B. I'm happy → خوشحالم C. Native of → اهل D. To speak → صحبت کردن E. Where → کجا F. To see → دیدن G. Friend → دوست	5. تهران 6. صحبت می‌کنید؟ 7. کم 8. ایرانی 9. می‌بینم

📖 Part 4

Grammar Tip: Spoken vs. Formal Farsi

☑ Example 1:
کلاس داری؟ (Kelās dāri?) = means کلاس داری (شما) تو We normally do not mention the subject in daily conversations.

☑ Example 2:
کلاسِت ساعت چنده؟ (Kelāset sā'at chande?) = means کلاس تو ساعت چند است؟ (Kelāse tu sā'at chand ast?)

☑ Example 3:
می‌خوای بخوابی؟ (Mikhāy bekhābi?) = means می‌خواهی بخوابی؟ (Mikhāhi bekhābi?)

☑ Example 4:
یک فیلم جدید می‌بینیم. (Yek film-e jadid mibinim.) = فیلم جدید (film-e jadid) means "a new film". The adjective comes after the noun in Farsi.

☑ Example 5:
موفق باشی! (Movaffagh bāshi!) means تو موفق باشی! = means Good luck!

💡 Part 5

Useful to Know

In Persian, to wish someone good luck or success, people often say:
موفق باشی! (Movaffagh bāshi!) — commonly used in both formal and informal contexts.
For a more formal expression, you might hear:
برای تو آرزوی موفقیت می کنم. (baraye tu Ārezou-ye movaffaghiat mikonam.) — meaning "I wish you success."
In Persian, to talk about going somewhere, we use the verb رفتن (raftan), which means to go. For example:
می‌روی (mi-ravi) — you go (formal/written style)
میری (miri) — you go (informal/spoken style)

The word می‌روی comes from the verb رفتن (raftan). In everyday conversation, especially in informal speech, people often drop the "ـی" ending and say میری instead of می‌روی.
Both mean you go, but میری sounds more casual and is used in daily spoken Persian.

🖍️ Part 6

It's sunny but a little cold.	امروز هوا آفتابی ولی کمی سرده. Emrooz havā āftābiye vali kami sarde.

📖 Part 4

Grammar Tip: Spoken vs. Formal Farsi

☑ Example 1

I want to take a walk. Or .می خواهم قدم بزنم = I'm going to take a walk. می‌رم قدم بزنم.
In Farsi, we use a special verb form called the subjunctive after verbs like "دوست داشتن" (to like) or "خواستن" (to want), to express purpose.
.می‌خوام فیلم ببینم = I want to watch a movie.

☑ Example 2

You also learned a common compound verb, قدم زدن (to walk). In Persian, many actions are made using a noun + verb, like صحبت کردن (to speak) or دوست داشتن (to like). These are conjugated like regular verbs.
.او قدم می‌زند = He/She walks. دوست داری قدم بزنیم؟= Do you want to take a walk?

☑ Example 3

In Farsi, time expressions like "بعد از ظهر" (afternoon) or "هر روز" (everyday) " هر یکشنبه" (every Sunday) usually come before the verb.
.من هر روز بعد از ظهر به پارک می‌روم = I go to the park every afternoon.

☑ Example 4

You saw contractions like:
می‌بینمت = I'll see you. This is a combination of می‌بینم (I see) + ـت (you).

☑ Example 5

Adverbs like همیشه (always) or معمولاً (usually) گاهی وقت ها (sometimes) are placed before the verb.
.هوا معمولاً در بهار خوبه = The weather is usually nice in spring.
.من همیشه ساعت هفت صبحانه می‌خورم = I always eat breakfast.

💡 Part 5
Useful to Know

As we learned before, in Persian it's common to shorten formal phrases in everyday speech. For example, in the sentence بعد از ظهر خانه هستی؟ the casual version is بعد از ظهر در خونه ای؟ — the word هستی is replaced by the ending ای in spoken version. Also, the word خانه changes to خونه

می‌بینمت is a friendly, common way to say "See you," combining می‌بینم + ت ("I see you").

🖍️ Part 6
Exercise– Fill in the Blanks.

Complete the sentences using the correct words below:

آفتابی	قدم	بعد از ظهر	میرم	می‌بینمت

1. امروز هوا _____ است.
2. من هر روز _____ به پارک می‌روم.
3. امروز _____ پارک.
4. می‌خوام کمی _____ بزنم.
5. باشه، _____!

⭐ Answer Key 1 – Vocabulary Matching	⭐ Answer Key 2 – fill in the blanks
A. Weather → هوا B. Sunny → آفتابی C. To see → دیدن D. To go → رفتن E. To walk → قدم زدن F. To come → آمدن G. Goodbye → خداحافظ H. Always → همیشه	15. آفتابی 16. بعد از ظهر 17. می‌رم 18. قدم 19. می‌بینمت

Let's recap what we learned in Lesson Four

🔁 Recap

You learned how to make casual plans, talk about the weather, and use spoken phrases like می‌رم قدم بزنم "I'm going to take a walk", and می‌بینمت "I'll see you, or see you later." in everyday conversation.
You also practiced time expressions like بعد از ظهر afternoon, and natural responses like آره، کاملاً آفتابیه. Yes, it is completely sunny.

➡️ Practice tip:
Try making your own short dialogues about daily routines — use real times, places, and weather. Say them aloud to build fluency!

🔷 Think About It:
What new words or phrases did you find more interesting today?
Say them out loud and try using one in your own sentence.
